

Maggie McMichael's practice involves civil litigation in state and federal courts, including medical malpractice, personal injury, civil rights litigation, and business/fiduciary disputes.

Maggie joined Watson Spence in 2017, after graduating cum laude from the University of Georgia School of Law. During law school she served as the Senior Managing Editor of the Georgia Law Review.

A proud "Double Dawg," Maggie earned her undergraduate degree from the University of Georgia, graduating magna cum laude with a Bachelor of Science in Consumer Economics in 2013.

Outside of work, Maggie loves cheering on the Dawgs, trying new recipes and restaurants, and exercising.
